NOTE, to be appended to my account of the coins of Mayas, in the article on "Some New Bactrian Coins," No. 105.

In the Journal of the Asiatic Society, vol. iv. plate 21, No. 4, there is a sketch of a square copper coin of large size, which Mr. James Prinsep attributed to Antimachus. M. Jacquet (Jour. Asiatique, February 1836, p. 170, No. 48,) thought that it belonged either to Lysias or to Philoxenes; and M. Raoul-Rochette (J. des S. March 1836, p. 131, note 2,) recognized it as a coin of Philoxenes, from its native legend. The coin, however appears to me to belong to Mayas; the Bactrian Pali legend being plainly

𐨪𐨿𐨟𐨪𐨁𐨮𐨿𐨟 𐨟𐨪𐨁𐨮𐨿𐨟 𐨪𐨿𐨟𐨪𐨁𐨮𐨿𐨟[𐨪 𐨟𐨪𐨁𐨮𐨿𐨟]

[Maharajasa ra] jatirájasa mahatasa Máasa.

"[Coin of the great king, the king] of kings, the mighty Mayas;" and from this the Greek legend is readily completed—ΒΑΣΙΛΕΩΣ ΒΑΣΙΛΕΩΝ ΜΕΓΑΛΟΥ ΜΑΥΟΥ.

Dr. Chapman possesses a duplicate of this coin, which has ΑΣΙΛΕΩΣ ΒΑΣΙΛ ..... ΑΥΟ, on the obverse; and 𐨪𐨿𐨟𐨪... [ra] jatiraja [sa], on the reverse.

It is a curious fact, that the copper coins of the earlier Bactrian princes are, in comparison to the silver coins, extremely scarce. Thus of Euthydemus there are but a few copper pieces known, and all of one single type. Of Demetrius there are, I believe, but two copper coins yet known, both of which are in the possession of Captain Hay, and I hope shortly to make them public. Of Antimachus not a single specimen has yet been found to my knowledge, and yet his silver coins are moderately common. A. CUNNINGHAM.

This note to Lieut. A. Cunningham's interesting paper, published in my last number, reached me after the sheets had been struck off.
